Changes to IRAM Safety Approval procedure - Argentina

The Argentine Institute of Standardisation and Certification (IRAM) have advised changes to their FAST TRACK certification scheme.

Under the current FAST TRACK scheme, test reports issued by UL under IEC standards or harmonized with IEC, or CBTR and CBTC (Test report and test certificates) issued under the CB Scheme and by UL (US) or UL (Demko) allow manufacturers to obtain IRAM Approval without the need for local testing.

Under the new FAST TRACK scheme, a physical sample of the product will be required for inspection purposes only.

These changes have been advised to come into effect in May; however a date has not yet been confirmed.
