

Regulatory Alert

Delays Expected to Type Approval Applications in South Africa - NRCS

Following a continued heavy workload at the South Africa National Regulator for Compulsory Specifications (NRCS) Electro Technical Department, delays in review lead time are currently being experienced for all Safety Type Approval applications under review.

NRCS officials are working on these issues and formal meetings are expected to be held this week to address the situation.

In the mean time, all efforts are being made to complete ongoing reviews as quickly as possible.

For additional information on this article please contact

Yanru Chen

Product Compliance Specialists

Email: yanru@productcompliancespecialists.com