

Regulatory Alert – Saudi Arabia

Policy changes at CITC for Radio Devices

The Saudi Arabian Regulator, Communications and Information Technology Commission (CITC), are being much more selective about the Radio Devices they consider to fall within their scope and responsibility.

PCS understands that CITC will not issue Type Approvals for any radio device that they no longer consider to be communications equipment.

In such cases, CITC has unofficially confirmed to PCS that radio modules installed in devices may be Approved, however radio integrated chipsets may not be.

No formal details have been released by CITC concerning this new policy, and thus far CITC have yet to confirm the full extent of its reach. To date they have not published a list of products they consider out of scope. They are treating all applications on a case-by-case basis.

PCS will continue to monitor the situation and will keep customers updated accordingly.

For additional information regarding this update, please contact:

Miss Ella O'Brien
Product Compliance Specialists
Email: ella@productcompliancespecialists.com

Date of Issue: 24th August 2017