

Gas Engineer – Top 5 Skills

You may be wondering what skills are required to work as a Gas Engineer. We have rounded up the Top 5 skills you will need in order to become a gas engineer:

1. Practical Skills: A Gas Engineers job involves a significant amount of work with your hands.
2. People Skills: You will meet all kinds of customers on a day to day basis. You will need the ability to adapt to their needs. Good communication is key!
3. Attention to Detail: When working with Gas it is important the you are focused and thorough in carrying out all of your tasks. Every task will be expected to be carried out at a high standard.
4. Time Management: You will be allocated a certain amount of jobs in your day. Whether working alone or as a team you will need to manage your time productively so your work can be completed in a timely manner.
5. Initiative: Jobs may not always go to plan, or you could turn up to a job with an unexpected issue. You will need to use your initiative, remain calm and be assertive in making decisions.

Start your journey to becoming a Gas engineer.
Call us on 012442 662121 or email uk.training@kiwa.com