

Compliance to BSMI Certification by Kiwa

The Taiwan Commodity Inspection Schemes (TCI Schemes) are administered by the Bureau of Standards, Metrology and Inspection (BSMI), which is the authority responsible for standardization, metrology and product inspection in Taiwan. The BSMI Certification ensures that drinking water related products meet safety, health and environmental regulations and standards. Together with our partners, Kiwa can facilitate regulatory compliance to local requirements for a number of product standards.

Who is BSMI Certification for?

With the BSMI Certificate, you as manufacturer can provide evidence to the market that your products meets the quality and safety standards needed to be able import and sell on the Taiwanese market. If you are planning to introduce new products to Taiwan market, Kiwa can help you to identify if your product fall under the mandatory certification requirements and support you with a technical pre-evaluation of the products suitability for BSMI certification, ensuring that they do not fail official compliance inspections. Please submit a request or contact us for more information.
