

Product Carbon Footprint

We have built ourselves a solid reputation for high level advisory services throughout the energy industries in the UK and further afield. Product carbon footprint is one of our specialised services.

Corporate social responsibility (CSR) has become a key marketing tool. Providing the carbon footprint (i.e. the greenhouse gas emissions released in the creation of a product) is a 'must have' for many businesses now.

This service is for manufacturers of products wanting to demonstrate their CSR.

Footprint measurement to the Carbon Trust Standard (based on BSISO 4064) takes into account emissions from the production of the component parts and assembly of the product, through its expected working life, and right up to final disposal.

The benefit of joining the CT Standard is found in the financial savings made from adhering to the Standard and demonstrating an annual 5% reduction in energy usage.
