What we do

At Kiwa Product Compliance (KPC) we manage worldwide Regulatory Type Approval needs for radio and electrical devices. We've been helping customers with their Global Market Access requirements for over 20 years, taking the stress out of all that comes with regulatory compliance and certification. Our multilingual, tech savvy teams are based in key hubs across the UK, Europe, USA and China. With over 50 Global Market Access experts dotted around the world, operating effectively outside of your native market is never an issue and language is never a barrier.

Working together

Allow us to take regulatory compliance out of your hands, expedite market access and free you up to produce the next piece of groundbreaking electronic hardware. We enable our customers to focus solely on their business, whilst we take on the laborious, admin and regulation heavy procedures.

We don't just deliver, we go above and beyond. Our customers know they can rely on our expertise, efficiency and attentiveness.

What we stand for

Taking an ethical approach in all we do, we are Ambitious, Reliable and Engaged and we exist to drive progress in partnership with our customers.

How we do it

That's not all we do, if you need more, we can provide more. We offer bespoke service packages tailored to meet wider regulatory requirements. Additional services offered by KPC include:

- ▶ Regulatory research & intelligence harvesting
- ▶ Certification management and maintenance
- ▶ Regulatory compliance consultancy

You will never be out of the loop, using our online customer portal, where you can effortlessly track the progress of your projects and certifications and view regulatory requirements via a single platform.

"We look forward to working with you to elevate your business to the next level and building a lasting relationship."
